Thousands have Ended their Bowel Worries
by taking this advice!

Can constipation actually be overcome? "Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" say the many thousands who have followed their advice and know.

You are not likely to cure your constipation with salts, pills, tablets, or any of the habit-forming cathartics. But you can correct the condition by gentle regulation with a suitable liquid laxative.

THE LIQUID TEST:
This is the way many men and women have made their bowels as regular as clockwork in a very short time.

First: select a properly prepared liquid laxative. Second: take the dose you find suited to your system. Third: gradually reduce the dose until bowels are moving of their own accord.

Simple, isn't it? And it works! The right liquid laxative brings thorough bowel action without using force. An approved liquid laxative (one which is most widely used for both adults and children) is syrup pepsin. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescription, and is perfectly safe. Its laxative action is based on sense—a natural laxative. The bowels will not become dependent on this form of help, as in the case of mineral drugs.

Hospitals and doctors have always used liquid laxatives. The dose can be measured, and the action controlled. Pills and tablets containing drugs of violent action are hard on the bowels.

If there are children in your household, don't give them any fat-form of laxative, but use a healthful, helpful preparation like syrup pepsin. Its very taste will tell you it is wholesome, and agreeable to the stomach. Delightful taste, and delightful action; there is no discomfort at the time, or after. Ask your druggist for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, all ready to take.

much damage was done to the quality of this crop. That will naturally, when it comes to grading, place tobaccos that would ordinarily belong to the A. B. C. groups in the X groups. This, you can readily see, will greatly increase the percentage of the low grades for which there has been no stimulated demand for the past several years, and will affect materially the average price of this year's crop.

All of which is submitted in a spirit of cooperation and helpfulness."

There are 6 types of home-grown tobaccos that are best for cigarettes

BRIGHT TOBACCOS
U. S. Types 11, 12, 13, 14.
BURLEY TOBACCO
U. S. Type 31.
SOUTHERN MARYLAND TOBACCO
U. S. Type 32.

U. S. Type 11 is produced in the Piedmont Belt of Virginia and part of North Carolina.

U. S. Type 12 is produced in eastern North Carolina.

U. S. Type 13 grows in South Carolina.

U. S. Type 14 is produced mostly in southern Georgia—a few million pounds in northern Florida and Alabama.

U. S. Type 31 includes what is called White Burley tobacco. It was first produced by George Webb in 1864. It is light in color and body, and is milder than the Burley used for pipes.

U. S. Type 32, Maryland tobacco, is noted for its "burn". In this respect Maryland excels most other tobaccos.

These are the kinds of home-grown tobaccos used for making Chesterfield Cigarettes.

Then Chesterfield adds aromatic Turkish tobacco to give just the right seasoning or spice.

Chesterfield ages these tobaccos for 30 months —2½ years — to make sure that they are milder and taste better.

Father DARKLEAF'S Column

Reggie Sanley slipped out of the store yesterday afternoon at 1:30 and at 2 o'clock was back with a 15 pound turkey that sounds like quick and easy hunting. However, inside dopsters this dawning opine that Reggie really got the turkey the night before and stripped its wing and knew where he was yesterday.

Lewis Doss will now have to buy his hog meat. Fetched himself a nice pig this week. Tuesday afternoon just before a fire broke out near the pig's domicile said pig escaped. Later was found killed by a passing car. Really, it's a pig's life.

Well, sir, Len Smith's now famous goat has shaken the dust of Appomattox and Father Darkleaf from his butting apparatus. This week the goat traded off and now gets his mail at the Rocky Farm.

This goat won renown for disturbing the dignity and decorum of the town's main corner on occasion . . but couldn't stand the fame.

It just occurs to me, that a lad is really grown up when he stops wiping his nose on his coat sleeve.

Barnyard turkey is selling cheap this year. Everyone should be able to have turkey for Thanksgiving. Dad has a fine flock of capons. One neighbor was amazed at their size and declared, "Please save me some of those "capon" eggs next spring!" Oh yeah.

C. C. officers at Spout Spring state that the town is improperly named. "There ain't no spring," they are willing to bet after watching workmen drill 140 feet for water in vain.

Around town there's a general habit of calling the drug store on the telephone to get in touch with some who is not in their office or usual whereabouts. Charley James has no cash, is the door at all hours, looking for the butcher, the baker and the candlestick-maker for somebody who needs photo services. Father Darkleaf was therefore interested in hearing the drug store report the "Rube" Hudgins is the busiest man in Appomattox to locate and that when someone call for him, the reply is always, 'Haven't seen him today.'

Hearing of the government's policy of purchasing newly mined gold at rather high prices and the rush to find the rare metal, Father Darkleaf rushed his optics when apparent mining efforts were begun in what has in recent years been a gaping hole in the ground right next door to our plant. Yes, they must be digging for gold for F. D. However, a reporter always investigates, and we found that the sub-terrian efforts were to dig a passageway for hihgway trucks so they could drive down and get a load of gravel from the bottom of a freight car. If we don't forget and fill up the drive with ashes it will save a lot of elbow grease to these highway workers.

LOCAL UTILITY DECLARES REGULAR DIVIDENDS

The board of directors of the Virginia Public Service Company, at a meeting held November 21, 1933, at 117 South Washington St., Alexandria, Va., declared the regular quarterly dividend of one dollar and seventy-five cents (1.75) per share on the 7% cumulative preferred stock and one dollar and fifty cents (1.50) per share on the 6% cumulative preferred stock, both payable January 1, 1934, to stockholders of the company of record, December 11, 1933, according to an announcement by L. W. Van Bibber, secretary-treasurer of the company.

Inventory

AT THE end of each fiscal year a merchant or business man usually makes a list of his stock of merchandise in order to obtain definite information as to the actual worth of his business. The list is called an inventory of merchandise. The thoughtful merchant does not attempt to deceive himself into believing that all the merchandise on his shelves is worth what he paid for it, and so he culls out the worthless stock, marks down whatever is shopworn, and adjusts his gains and losses accordingly. Thus he commences the new year with a balance sheet of correct values.

This question of correct values sooner or later confronts all mankind; and, like the business man, every individual who is eager to advance in the right direction will take account of his personal stock by making a careful analysis of his spiritual, mental, and moral condition. He will devote himself resolutely to the task of eliminating from his storehouse of thinking whatever is undesirable or destructive to health, holiness, and success, and seek to replace it with that which will bring peace and happiness not only to himself but to all upon whom his thoughts may rest.

While a business man may take stock only once or twice during the year, in the textbook of Christian Science, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, we read (p. 233): "Every day makes its demands upon us for higher proofs rather than professions of Christian power. These proofs consist solely in the destruction of sin, sickness, and death by the power of Spirit, as Jesus destroyed them. This is an element of progress, and progress is the law of God, whose law demands of us only what we can certainly fulfil."

Necessarily we must progress, since that is God's law. Then if that law, the law of divine Love, demands of us what we can fulfil, we need not hesitate, or even be in doubt, for no problem is too difficult for a true understanding of Mind to solve, and no error too subtle for Truth to uncover. It is our part simply to be obedient to God's behest and to relinquish to thought, as fast as practical, aught that is unloving, selfish, unkind, dishonest, and impure.

The merchant, in going through his shelves, may find an accumulation of "dead stock" or worthless merchandise; and, again, he may find hidden away many articles of value which he did not know were there.

We are told once a rich young ruler man asked Jesus what he should do that he might have eternal life. Jesus answered, "Sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven." It is as if he had said, Dispose of everything that would prevent the establishment of eternal life in your consciousness. Later the Master added, "How hard is it for them that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God!" It is evident that the riches referred to were treasured beliefs that are not substantial, while true wealth consists of spiritual ideas, which are enduring.

Learning something of the value of spiritual riches, we find with Paul that "our sufficiency is of God," and that beliefs of lack, discouragement, and fear are the merchandise of mortal thought, to be replaced with more substantial, more spiritual, thinking. As one's thinking improves, he finds changes for the better inevitably taking place in his daily activity.—The Christian Science Monitor.

And Another Local Man Makes Good

Writing fiction while outside the classroom has resulted in the acceptance of 19 stories by national sport magazines from the pen of Dr. Havilah Babcock. Dr. Babcock is a native of Appomattox, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Babcock. He is professor of english and director of the extension division of the University of South Carolina.

Some of the magazines accepting Babcock stories during the past year are: Field and stream,' 'Outdoor Life" 'American Forests,' 'National Sportsman,' and "Hunting and Fishing." In addition he has sold the British rights to hree of his stories and one editor is contemplating making a compilation of the stories in book form.

Dr Babcock's field is stories of the out-of-doors. They run from 3,000 to 6,000 words each. In the current issue of "Outdoor Life" one of Dr. Babcock's stories entitled "The American Antelope," is featured.

Red Cross

The drive for Red Cross memberships in this county continues nd hopes to reach its quota by Thanksgiving. Many memberships were reported from the county's churches last Sunday. Renewed efforts must be made if the goal is to be reached or approached. Workers are asked to make their reports at once to their county chairman in order that progress of the drive may be ascertained.

Shop Early

J. E. Dinwiddie, this morning called attention to the fact that Christmas packages will have to be mailed earlier than ever this year. Christmas comes on Monday and the post offices will be closed Sunday and Monday, the 24 and 25 of December. Therefore, packages must be mailed in time for delivery by Saturday, December 23. No R. F. D. routes will operate Christmas Day.

Notice

It was announced this morning by county Red Cross officials that there would be no distribution of supplies here until further notice. Those who have blanks for relief recommendation are asked not to send in applicants until notified further.

Thanksgiving

Plans are already shaping up for the annual observance of Thanksgiving in Appomattox county. Perhaps hunting will be the chief attraction of the occasion for many. However, some will attend football games, the V. P. I. and V. M. I. tilt in Roanoke and the Richmond University and William and Mary game in Richmond vieing for interest.

Union Thanksgiving church services will be held here at Liberty church, with the sermon by the Rev. W. K. Cunningham. A special offering will be taken and divided between the three denominational orphanages.

After Thanksgiving everyone will begin the annual preparation for Christmas, with only a short shopping season before Santa Claus.

Warranted After Trouble In Local Bank

It is understood this morning that two warrants will be presented against John Harris, of near Oakville, at a magistrate's hearing here Saturday before T. W. Moses, following a disturbance last Friday morning in the Farmers National Bank. The warrants are for attempted murder and for attempted robbery of a bank.

It is indicated that the case will be sent on to the grand jury and heard in the next term of the county court, convening December 1.

Mr. Harris is alleged to have entered the Farmers National Bank last Friday morning at 9:30 and to have walked behind the cashier's window and demanded payment of twenty-five per cent of his account held in custody by a depositor's committee following the reopening of the bank after the recent bank holiday. He drew a gun on the cashier, A. R. Harwood, and was in the midst of an attempt to force payment of the account when sheriff H W. McKinney and J. E. Dinwiddie entered the bank at the behest of Miss Jessalyn Hancock, stenographer. A scuffle followed in which the gun was harmlessly fired and Harris arrested

Mr. Harris has been released upon a $2,500 peace bond.

Mr. Harwood, in explaining the facts of the case yesterday stated:

"I want to say to everybody interested that I consider the affair in the bank Friday, Nov. 17, with Mr. Harris most unfortunate, and I wish from the bottom of my heart for the sake of all concerned, it had never happened. I do hope that people, wherever interested, will not listen to gossip as decisions should all be made based on facts after looking at the case from every angle. The officers have a duty they can't escape, no matter how much they might like to do so.

"I have no ill feelings toward Mr. Harris or any of his family. I have tried all through the past 5 years of trying times to act fairly and courteously towards everybody and do not think Mr. Harris would have threatened my life if he had not been temporarily beside himself.

"We should all be very grateful that no one was hurt or killed as it could have been much worse.

"The people of Appomattox county always act sensibly and with good judgment in times of stress and I believe they will again be fair to everybody in this case."

Party For Birthday

Mrs. G. L. Doss entertained at a birthday party Saturday November 18, on the occasion of the fourth birthday of her daughter, Mary LeFern Anong those present were: Dorothy Lee, Rebecca Elizabeth and Barbara Ann Johnson, Betty Vaughn Munsey, Betty Worth Higginbotham, Elizabeth Jamerson, Bobby and Billie Conner, Dorothy Ould, Peggy Moses, Jean Carter, Walter Dresser, Virginia Bingham, Marion June Evans, Herman Scott, Mary Lucy Marshall, Nancy Scott, Dorothy Hanenkrat, Peggy Moses and Jack Burkley. Ice cream and cake were served the guests. Many games and contests were played. Nancy Scott won the prize given for the contest.

Markets May Not Open 'Til December 5

According to reports reaching here this morning, dark-tobacco markets will not open until December 5, but in all likelihood will not close after once opening, except for the usual Christmas holiday.

Markets were originally scheduled to open November 28. However, unavoidable events foreshadowed their closing after a few days until perhaps after Christmas, to allow time for government setup of price standards. So much opposition developed to a closing of the markets in December, the most important financial monh of the year, that the new plan of waiting until the fifth to open and then stay open was devised.

With some 25,000,000 pounds of dark tobacco to be marketed, a large crop, much depends upon what steps the government will take to boost prices to a parity level. The crop is held to be of fair, to good quality leaf.

Farmers will be betted satisfied to wait until December 5 to start selling their crop with assurances that the markets will remain open, than to be given the opportunity of only two or three days selling before the first of the year, and consequently being unable to complete paying of taxes, store accounts and Christmas shopping.

Appomattox May Yet Get Works Loan or Grant

Group of Officials Attended Meeting Yesterday

Appomattox may yet share in the public and civil works projects being encouraged by the federal administration. A large group, including: Don Moses, J. W. Cawthorn, C. W. Smith, F. A. O'Brien, J. H. O'Brien, T. E. Owen, S. L. Ferguson, E. T. Mitchell and Watt Abbitt attended a called meeting of town and county officials of this section in Farmville yesterday afternoon. Possible work projects in the territory were urged.

The civil works administration is ready to grant funds to carry out a great number of relatively small projects in order to restore employment. It is hoped that 2,000,000 men can be put to work within a few weeks time, therefore smaller projects that can be undertaken on short notice, giving immediate employment, are being pushed.

The group from Appomattox considered application for funds to properly drain sewage disposal within the town of Appomattox, possible street and sidewalk work, sewage, painting of interior and exteriors of county schools, small additions to schools, possible heating plant in larger schools.

It appears that the original plan to install a town owned water and sewage plant here will not be carried through. However, the time is auspicious for public works here and the federal government knocks at the door of opportunity offering funds to finance any reasonable projects.

In other towns, cities and counties being granted large sums for public projects and giving subsequent employment and aid to the financial welfare of the people, it is felt that Appomattox should not be left out. Public opinion and pressure will make it possible for not one family honestly desiring to work to go unemployed this winter in Appomattox. However, speed must be the deciding factor in lining up the desired applications.

BENT CREEK

Bent Creek, Nov. 22.—The hunting season is on. Some few turkeys have been killed, many rabbits and a few birds.

A. V. Englert and his friend, J. B. Carter, both of Lynchburg, are hunting on the Horsley farm, owned by L. B. Kapp, of Lynchburg. They report lots of fun, but not much game.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Turnes and Mrs. W. C. Turnes, Miss Elizabeth Turnes and Mrs. Ray Wright, of Lynchburg, were visitors here Sunday.

Buck, the small son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Childress who was painfully hurt when struck by an automobile some time ago, is out again.

Mrs. Jack Williams, of Gladstone, is spending this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Cumby. Mrs. Williams has been sick, but is now better.

Miss Olivia Harris, who has been visiting her uncle, Leslie Thornhill, in Cleveland, Ohio, for the past few months, has returned home. She reports a wonderful time, having visited Canada, Niagra Falls and several other places of interest while on her trip.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Royal W. Wells on Nov. the 6, a daughter, Virginia Daphine.

Mrs. Eunice Cumby spent several days with friends near Appomattox last week.

William Burke Appointed

Appomattox folks will be pleased to hear that William Burke, son of Mr and Mrs. R. L. Burke, has been made an assistant state bank examiner with temporary appointment. He is now working on a bank examination in Roanoke, and it is hoped that his appointment will be made permanent.

Mr. Burke has recently been connected with a law firm in Lynchburg, but has obtained leave of absence until January first, pending information as to his permanent connection, with the state bank examining office.

He is an alumnus of V. P. I. and the University of Virginia, and passed the state bar examination of his law course.

Report On Five Point Pupils

According to reports made to superintendent of schools, J. A. Burke, there are 1,659 school pupils in Appomattox with physical defects and 439 pupils with five-point records, making a total of 2,098 pupils given physical inspection. There were 2,188 pupils enrolled in the county's schools as of October 9.

The defects listed are as follows: underweight, 362 white, 119 colored; defective teeth, 1,100 white and 370 colored; defective eyesight, 196 white, and 108 colored; defective hearing, 16 white and 28 colored; defective throat, 236 white and 154 colored; unvaccinated, 163 white and 112 colored; crippled, 5 white and 2 colored.

Hunting Licences Issued

To date some 384 county hunting licences have been issued for Appomattox county and 69 state hunting licences have been purchased at the office of the county clerk.

With the Thanksgiving rush yet to come at its peak, this peak, this number is normal and shows that the deer has no effect upon Virginia's classic sport.

December Term Of Court To Meet

The December term of the county circuit court will convene here December 1. Clerk C. W. Smith reports that a crowded docket is in prospect.

Only two or three criminal indictments are foreseen and a maximum of civil cases. It is that light court will probably last not over two days.
